Education

Training as a Traditional Chinese Medicine therapist with a diploma in acupuncture, Tuina massage and Chinese remedy therapy

Work Experience

Stefan Künzle is a long-standing employee of the Oerlikon Medical Centre and his medical services offer a valuable complement to conventional medicine. After his training, he worked in various places as a qualified therapist for traditional Chinese medicine. Stefan Künzle has been working at the Oerlikon Medical Centre since 2016. With his calm and level-headed manner, he takes a lot of time for each patient and treats them individually. Stefan Künzle can help with traditional Chinese medicine, especially in cases of treatment-resistant complaints where conventional medicine has reached its limits. His core competences include acupuncture, Tuina massage and Chinese drug therapy.
